YOU ARE INVITED
TO THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, UNIVERSITY LIBRARY SYSTEM'S 5TH ANNUAL AUDUBON DAY!
FRIDAY, NOV. 6
Learn more about our extensive collection & enjoy a unique presentation featuring

Allan J. Stypeck
President of Second Story Books, Inc &
Accredited Senior Member of the American Society of Appraisers

10–11:30 a.m. | HILLMAN LIBRARY
Ground Floor, Amy E. Knapp Room

John James Audubon’s famous work was gifted to the University of Pittsburgh by the Darlington family as part of a much larger bequest of manuscripts, books, maps and atlases.

Mr. Allan Stypeck’s lecture will place the Audubon prints within the broader context of the Darlington’s historical materials. While a great deal is known about Audubon and his famous work, far less is known about other historically-valuable manuscripts, maps and books that the Darlingtons acquired.

In addition to remarks about Birds of America, Stypeck will shed light on some of the Darlington’s extraordinary acquisitions that include Colonial Americana letters, military manuscripts, maps, and atlases, thereby providing a deeper appreciation for the Darlington Collection.

Audubon Prints will be on display in Hillman Library
3rd Floor, Special Collections, from 9 a.m.–4:45 p.m.